Our Parish

THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME 27TH OCTOBER 2024

"What do you want me to do for you?"

A relationship has been formed through that look into the face of Jesus, first as a blind man, now with sight. It is a lesson that the eyes of the heart are more powerful than physical sight. The first person the blind man actually saw was the one who brought the needed healing to his life.

We are encouraged to hear the Lord say to us, "What do you want me to do for you?" We can do some serious soul-searching as to what we really want from God, and with the faith of the blind man, ask it of God, so that we too may look into God's face and so deepen our relationship with the God who saves us.

"Constantly seek God's face!"

Abbot Christian Leisy, OSB

2 Corinthians 4:17-18

'For our light and momentary troubles are achieving for us an eternal glory that far outweighs them all. So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen, since what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal.'

FINAL DAYS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE SYNOD IN ROME- Imagining a new way of being Church. "We were convened not to solve particular problems but to imagine a new way of being Church," said Cardinal Fridolin Ambongo Besungu, the first of the panellists to speak at Tuesday's (22nd) briefing. "The Synod did not deviate from the objective it had set itself, laying a foundation: starting from it, returning each one to his own house, as well as in the universal Church, we must apply this spirit of synodality to every problem that arises," he said.

The Archbishop of Kinshasa expressed his satisfaction with the Synod as it draws to a close.

"Our country is still considered a missionary land, our Church was until recently a missionary one, and it must adapt to the reality of the socio-cultural context," he said, so "the convocation to the synod was seized as a kairós (God's time)," a moment of grace, and an opportunity to "see together how to imagine a new way of being Church."

Now that synodality is emerging in the Church, Cardinal Ambongo assured journalists that in Africa, the Church, "together with our African brothers and sisters, will try to enter into this new dynamic, how to be a Catholic Church differently."

The final document is to be approved on Saturday 26th
